Peter van der Heijden is a professor of statistics for the social and behavioral sciences at Utrecht University and professor of social statistics at the University of Southampton. At Utrecht University he is responsible for the focus area of Applied Data Science.

He is chair of the Advisory Committee on Methodology and Quality at Statistics Netherlands and chair of the steering committee research into recidivism at the Dutch Ministry of Justice and Safety. He is an elected member of the International Statistical Institute.

His recent research focusses on population sizes estimation in the area of the census, and in public health; on record linkage; and on data mining and machine learning methods. He is the author of over 100 publications and has supervised over 20 PhD students. Papers can be found at: https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Peter_GM_Heijden