

Rachel Lancry Beaumont
European Committee of the Regions

Rachel is currently Head of Unit for the Commission for Territorial Cohesion Policy and EU budget (COTER) in the European Committee of the Regions. She has long experience of cohesion policy, having served in various policy and operational roles in the European Commission's Directorate General for Regional and Urban Policy from 2001 to 2023. Prior to her career in the European Institutions, she was employed as a national civil servant in the United Kingdom. Rachel holds Master of Arts and Master of Philosophy degrees from the University of Cambridge, UK.