

Let Curiosity Thrive!

Children are naturally curious about the world around them. Encouraging them to ask questions (and modeling inquiry ourselves) creates a learning-rich environment!

Post this page near your table. At mealtimes, take turns closing your eyes and putting a finger on the page. Use the word on which you land to make up a question (perhaps about what's on the table: "How does corn grow?" or "Where does this lettuce come from?"). If no one knows the answers, look them up together later.
