

Our Adventure List

Getting to know our community can be fun and can help us feel happy and connected. Grown-ups can help children make a list of community “adventures” to do together. You might list places to visit, people to meet, skills to learn, or activities to try.

