

Building Bonds

Being a good friend or family member means being kind to one another. In each block, make a drawing or write a few words to express how much you care for your family or friends. You can cut out the blocks and play with them, too.

