

INFORMATION FOR UNSUCCESSFUL APPLICANTS
JULY 2024 GENERAL BAR EXAM AND ATTORNEYS' EXAM

Grade Information

The General Bar Exam consists of two sections: a written section containing five essay questions and one Performance Test (PT), and the 200-item Multistate Bar Examination (MBE) questions. If you took the General Bar Exam, you will be able to view the following information through your Applicant Portal: the raw scores for your answers to the five essay questions and the one PT (written scores), your total raw and scaled written scores, your MBE scaled score, and your total scaled score. You will also see the MBE local and national percentile rank information, which indicates the percentile rank for your performance on the seven MBE content areas and the MBE total score.

The Attorneys' Exam consists of five essay questions and one PT from the General Bar Exam. If you took the Attorneys' Exam, you will be able to view the following information through your Applicant Portal: the raw scores for your answers to the five essay questions and the one PT (written scores), your total raw and scaled written scores, and your total scaled score.

An applicant must achieve a total scaled score of at least 1390 out of a possible 2000 points to pass the exam.

Scaling Information

The Committee of Bar Examiners utilizes a scoring procedure designed to ensure the level of difficulty of the exam remains unchanged from previous administrations of the exam. The statistical technique, called scaling, converts scores on the written section to the MBE scale measurement. Converting the total written raw scores to the same scale of measurement as the MBE adjusts for possible differences in average question difficulty and grading across different administrations of the exam.

On the written section of the exam, applicants were initially graded on a basis of 700 maximum possible points. An applicant could earn up to 100 raw points on each of the five essay questions and up to 200 raw points on the PT. The grade on the PT is doubled in the calculation of the total raw written points. The scores obtained on the written section of the exam are then translated to the 2000-point MBE scale. An applicant's total score is the scaled MBE score multiplied by .50 plus the converted score on the written section multiplied by .50.

Attorney applicants who took the Attorneys' Exam also have their scores on the written section placed on the same scale of measurement as general applicants, but, as they are exempt from the MBE, their pass/fail status is based solely on the written section.

Phased Grading

All written answers submitted by applicants who completed the exam in its entirety are read and graded at least once before pass/fail decisions are made. To pass the exam in the first phase of grading, an applicant must have a total scaled score (after one reading) of at least 1390 points out of 2000 possible points. Those with total scaled scores after one reading below 1350 fail the exam.

If the applicant's total scaled score is at least 1350 but less than 1390 after one reading, all of the applicant's answers are read a second time by a different set of graders. If the applicant's average total scaled score after two readings is 1390 or higher, the applicant passes the exam. Applicants with averaged total scaled scores of less than 1390 fail the exam.

If you wish to calculate your written scaled score on your own:

Double the assigned PT grade and add the resulting value to the sum of your five raw essay grades. The total is your raw written score. Insert this value into the following formula:

$$\text{Written scaled score} = (\text{Raw written score} \times 3.9892) - 319.0884$$

If you took the Attorneys' Exam, your total scaled score is equal to your written scaled score.

If you took the General Bar Exam and wish to calculate your total scaled score on your own:

Multiply your MBE scaled score by .50. Multiply your written scaled score by .50. The sum of these two products is your total scaled score on the exam.

Result Letter and Exam Answers

The result letter and exam answers (essay and PT) for unsuccessful applicants are available in your Applicant Portal until December 6, 2024. Applicants are encouraged to save or print copies for their records before access is removed.
