paragraph 31Motion for a resolutionAmendment*

31. Underlines the need to promote respect for the rule of law and fundamental rights; stresses the crucial role of the Citizens, Equality, Rights and Values Programme in strengthening EU values, European citizenship and democracy, equality and gender equality and the rule of law in the Union, and in supporting victims of gender-based violence; reverses, therefore, the Council's cuts to the programme; decides, further, to increase the Daphne strand by EUR 2 million above the DB to tackle gender-based violence, which has worsened since the pandemic, as well as all forms of violence perpetrated against refugees, children, young persons and other groups at risk, and the 'citizens' engagement and participation' strand by EUR 1.5 million above the DB, in particular to ensure proper follow-up to the Conference on the Future of Europe;

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

(ca) reiterates, in the context of the ongoing revision of the general implementing provisions concerning the reimbursement of mission and duty travel expenses and the internal rules governing missions and duty travel by officials and other servants of the European Parliament, the will of the Plenary expressed on several occasions, namely that the Bureau should ensure that accredited parliamentary assistants (APAs) receive the same allowances for the missions that they carry out between Parliament's three places of work as for civil servants and other agents;

paragraph 70 – point c b (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

(cb) calls on the Conference of Presidents and the Bureau, once again, to revise the implementing provisions governing the work of delegations and missions outside the Union and the decision on "Committee missions outside the three places of work"; underlines that such a revision should consider the possibility for APAs, subject to certain conditions, to accompany Members on official Parliament delegations and missions, striking the right balance between the high added value for Members and the environmental and logistical and budgetary constraints;
