EU priorities for the 64th session of the UN Commission on the Status of Women

Motion for a resolutionParagraph 1 gMotion for a resolution*

1g. To conduct a values-based EU trade policy, which includes ensuring a high level of protection of labour and environmental rights as well as the respect of fundamental freedoms and human rights, including gender equality; to recall that all EU trade and investment agreements must be gender mainstreamed and include an ambitious and enforceable chapter on trade and sustainable development (TSD); to acknowledge that trading commitments in EU agreements should never overrule human rights, women's rights or environmental protection, and should take into account the local, social and economic environment;

Amendment

1g. To conduct a values-based EU trade policy, which includes ensuring a high level of protection of labour and environmental rights as well as the respect of fundamental freedoms and human rights, including gender equality; to recall that all EU trade and investment agreements must be gender mainstreamed and include an ambitious and enforceable chapter on trade and sustainable development (TSD); to welcome the Commission's commitment to ensure, for the first time for the EU, the inclusion of a specific gender chapter in the modernised Association Agreement between Chile and the EU and to promote and support the inclusion of such chapters in all further EU trade and investment agreements, building on existing international examples; to acknowledge that trading commitments in EU agreements should never overrule human rights, women's rights or environmental protection, and should take into account the local, social and economic environment;
