Verts/ALE, GUE/NGL:

amendment 51

First part

Text as a whole excluding the words:

- 2a.2.2. ('Border Protection Management

To advance safety and security within the EU requires research and innovation to strengthen the abilities of border protection and management. This includes area reconnaissance and surveillance (air, ground, sea), stable cooperation and data-exchange with foreign authorities, including interoperability capabilities with local, regional, national and international command-, control- and communication-centres as well as implementing solutions for border-protection, incident responding, risk-detection and crime-prevention. Further, to include is research on predictive policing and algorithm-based early warning applications, automated surveillance technologies using various kinds of sensors, while taking into account fundamental rights. While evaluating their impact and potential to enhance security efforts and solution, technologies and equipment should contribute to the integrity of those approaching external borders by especially land and sea.

Research should support the improvement of the integrated European border management, including through increased cooperation with candidate, potential candidate and EU Neighbourhood Policy countries. It will further assist EU efforts managing migration.

Broad Lines

- Identifying forged and otherwise manipulated documents;
- Detecting illegal transportation/ trafficking of persons and goods;
- Furthering response capabilities to border incidents;
- Modernisation of border aerial reconnaissance and surveillance equipment;
- Improving direct cooperation of security authorities of both sides in the respective border area for cross-border measures to ensure continuous persecution of offenders and suspects.)'

- 2a.2.3. Broad lines, indent 2 ('- Expanding detection, prevention, defence and countering technologies;')

- 2a 2.6, sub§ 1 ('Research, new technologies, capabilities and solutions are required to support the Union's external security policies in civilian tasks, ranging from civil protection to humanitarian relief, border management or peace-keeping and post-crisis stabilisation, including conflict prevention, peace-building and mediation.')

- 2a 2.6, Broad lines, indent 2 ('-Promoting interoperability between civilian and military capabilities in civilian tasks ranging from civil protection to humanitarian relief, border management or peace-keeping.')

- 2a 2.6, Broad lines, indent 3 ('-Technological development in the area of dual-use technologies to enhance interoperability between civil protection and military forces and amongst civil protection forces worldwide, as well as reliability, organisational, legal and ethical aspects, trade issues, protection of confidentiality and integrity of information and traceability of all transactions and processing.')

- 2a 2.7, sub§ 2 ('An adequate budget should be allocated to agencies to further promote their ability to participate in as well as from EU research and innovation and in order to manage relevant projects, to exchange demands, results and ambitions as well as to cooperate and coordinate efforts with other agencies and certain non-EU authorities like Counter-Terrorism Group and Interpol. As for security related research and innovation these are especially European Policy College, European Aviation Safety Agency, European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control, European Monitoring Centre for Drugs and Drug Addiction, European Maritime Safety Agency, European Network and Information Security Agency, European Agency for the operational management of large-scale IT Systems in the area of freedom, security and justice, European Union Intellectual Property Office, European Police Office, European Border and Coast Guard Agency and European Union Satellite Centre.')

- 2a 2.7, sub§ 3 ('To enhance synergies with EU-funded defence research, exchange and consultation mechanisms should be put in place with defence research associated authorities for civilian purposes.’).

Miscellaneous

Nicola Danti moved an oral amendment to Amendment 5, which then read as follows:

‘Points out that the single market is increasingly coming under pressure from national rules that run counter to the principles underpinning it, especially rules at national level that impact the free movement of goods and services; Recognises that unjustified and disproportionate national measures, as well as, uncoordinated measures, could put at risk the unity and the effectiveness of the Single Market; recalls, however, that certain measures may be legitimate and necessary to protect public interest objectives as recognised in the treaties;’

EFDD:
amendment 6

First part ‘Urges the Member States to find ways to stop foreign funding to religious communities that are known for hate speech or terrorist ties;’

Second part ‘considers that Member States may ban preaching in languages other than their official languages;’

ECR
§ 211

First part Text as a whole excluding the words: ‘certified childcare and home support, tax relief schemes’

Second part those words

Verts/ALE:
Recital BH

First part ‘whereas the use of encryption will on the one hand make a significant contribution to security in the field of IT, but on the other hand will also be used by terrorists to protect their communications or stored data, which represents a considerable challenge for law enforcement, security and intelligence services, since they can be denied access to essential intelligence and evidence;’

Second part ‘whereas encryption becomes particularly critical when even the responsible online service providers are unwilling or unable to decrypt the communication’

Recital CX

First part Text as a whole excluding the words: ‘whereas, however, EBCGA is experiencing difficulties in monitoring terrorism due to the short personal data retention period established by Regulation (EC) 2016/1624 that comprises only 90 days’

Second part those words

Recital DB

First part Text as a whole excluding the words: “whereas this is of capital importance for flights within the EU”

Second part those words

§ 41

First part ‘Calls on the Member States to take action against satellite TV channels disseminating violence, hate speech and incitement to terrorism, in accordance with the Audiovisual Media Services Directive; calls on the Member States to fully and swiftly implement the Directive to ensure that Article 6 on prevention of incitement to violence and hatred is in force across the EU;’

Second part ‘requests the Commission to prepare an analysis of possible legislative changes in the Directive in order to improve the effectiveness of blocking such channels broadcasting from third countries;’

First part ‘Welcomes the proposed regulations on interoperability; calls on the Commission to evaluate the potential and possible added value of additional information systems to be included in the future and to report to the European Parliament;’

Second part ‘believes that interoperability helps bring the relevant and necessary information together; emphasises that such a solution needs to find the right balance between legitimate needs for timely, efficient and relevant information for authorities in full accordance with their access rights and purpose limitation under the underlying legal bases and the fundamental rights of the data subjects;’

§ 83

First part

‘Stresses the need to introduce a biometric matching service enabling querying with biometric data across several EU information systems so as to contribute to the fight against identity fraud and to prevent people from using multiple identities; stresses the need to feed the relevant databases with biometric data;’

Second part

‘also stresses the need to continuously improve the ability to recognise improperly used real, partly falsified or entirely falsified documents used for personal identification;’

§ 113

First part

Text as a whole excluding the words: ‘calls on the Member States to ensure cooperation among all relevant stakeholders with a view to increasing the decryption abilities of the competent authorities and that the decryption abilities of the competent authorities are up to standard with a view to legal prosecution; welcomes the fact that Europol is developing decryption tools and expertise in order to become a hub for decrypting information lawfully obtained in criminal investigations and to better support Member States;’

Second part

those words

§ 125

First part

Text as a whole excluding the words: ‘calls on the Commission to examine the possibility of a legislative proposal that obliges communication platforms present on the EU market to cooperate when it comes to encrypted communications if there is a judicial decision to that effect;’

Second part

those words

§ 135

First part

‘Calls on the co-legislators to consider providing the EBCGA with a specific mandate for processing operational personal data suited to its operational role, including in the prevention and detection of cross-border crime and terrorism at the EU’s external borders;’ without the words ‘processing operational personal data suited to its operational role, including in’

Second part

those words

Third part

‘believes that such a mandate should allow for sufficient data retention periods and for the exchange of personal data with CSDP missions, Europol and Eurojust and, in specific circumstances and with the necessary safeguards, with third countries;’ without the words ‘sufficient data retention periods and for the exchange of personal data with CSDP missions, Europol and Eurojust and, in specific circumstances and with’

First part Text as a whole excluding the words: 'often second- or third-generation migrants, who have grown up in the Member States which they have attacked,'
Second part those words

Recital CV

First part 'whereas the thwarted attack on the Thalys train of 21 August 2015, the Paris attacks of 13 November 2015 and the Brussels attacks of 22 March 2016 have demonstrated that in a limited number of cases, terrorists abused shortcomings in the border management policies of the EU and of several Member States,' without the words 'border management'
Second part 'border management'
Third part 'which were not ready for a mass influx;'

Fourth part ‘whereas it has been reported by law enforcement authorities that at least eight of these attacks’ perpetrators entered the EU via irregular flows in July, August and October 2015; whereas in other cases, future perpetrators had remained in Member States in spite of being due to depart or be returned; whereas this demonstrates certain flaws in the EU’s border management policies and their implementation at Member State level;’

Verts/ALE, GUE/NGL:

Recital CS

First part ‘whereas the Schengen area without internal borders is a fundamental achievement of the EU,’

Second part ‘which is only sustainable if the external borders are effectively secured and protected, illegal border crossings cease and internal security measures are adopted to face the risk of serious crimes;’ without the words ‘illegal border crossings cease and’

Third part ‘illegal border crossings cease and’

Fourth part ‘whereas many proposals have been adopted in order to strengthen security checks at the external borders; whereas some Member States have asked for more flexibility regarding the temporary reintroduction of checks at internal borders in the event of a serious threat to public order or public security,’

Fifth part ‘as proposed by the Commission;’

Recital DY

First part ‘whereas several terrorist attacks in the EU were perpetrated by individuals known to the authorities;’

Second part ‘whereas vehicle rental companies lack the ability to exchange information, such as booking or reservation data, with law enforcement agencies for the purpose of cross-checks against official watch lists and police databases;’

Recital FE

First part ‘whereas counter-terrorism measures and the protection of freedoms are not conflicting goals, but complementary and mutually reinforcing; whereas fundamental rights must be secured and protected for each and every individual’

Second part ‘and all measures in the fight against terrorism should affect the innocent and uninvolved general population as little as possible;’ without the words ‘innocent and uninvolved general’

Third part ‘innocent and uninvolved general’

§ 47

amendment 7

First part

Text as a whole excluding the words: ‘calls on the EU and its Member States to introduce targeted sanctions if the Ukrainian servicemen are not released and if there is any further military escalation; underlines that there is no justification for such use of military might by Russia; expresses serious concern that this may constitute a creeping attempt to annex Ukraine’s sovereign rights in the Sea of Azov with the aim of transforming it into a Russian ‘internal lake’ and exclusive military zone, and to put a stranglehold on the economy of south-east Ukraine; demands that Russia guarantee freedom of navigation through the Kerch Strait and in the Sea of Azov’
