CG | SHASHWAT DHAM

“We regard Shashwat Dham as a beginning of a new revolution for the preservation of our spiritual heritage and all the elements associated with Sanatana dharma which needs to be preserved and shared with generations to come helping them make their lives more fulfilling”, said Binod Chaudhary, the chairman of CG Corp Global and founder of the Chaudhary Foundation.

Amidst the scenic foothills of Nawalparasi and spread over 12 verdant acres, Shashwat Dham is a destination for explorers, spiritual seekers and nature lovers alike to discover ancient knowledge and inner peace.

Shashwat Dham is one of Nepal's most popular tourist destinations. With the stunning Ekambareshwar Shiva Temple, a Buddhist centre and a yoga retreat, the site attracts visitors from all walks of life. With the divine blessings of Gurudev Sri Sri Ravi Shankar Ji and Sri Kanchi Shankaracharya Jagadguru Jayendra Saraswati Ji, Shashwat Dham aims to be a destination for everyone to attain spiritual strength, immerse themselves in eternal knowledge passed down by generations of saints and sages of Vedic times and experience love and joy — the true nature of our inner being. The idea for Shashwat Dham was conceived over 20 years ago when Gurudev Sri Sri Ravi Shankar Ji came to Nepal.

He told Chaudhary that although Nepal has innumerable temples, it lacked good Karma Kanda Pundits, who were well versed with Vedic knowledge and practices. This inspired Chaudhary to build a temple that wasn't just a place of worship but a place that delivers true pundits, who uphold and preserve the spiritual and religious values of the Sanatana Dharma. The site is also home to a spiritual museum, numerous beautiful statues, a Dhunge Dhara, a heritage store and much more. Shashwat Dham hosts a Vedic Karmakanda Gurukul, where young Brahmins can learn the knowledge and ancient methods needed to perform various rites, rituals and poojas alongside their standard education as well.
