Self Service Issuance

Card Issuance in just a few minutes

Your Branch is a key asset that should be used to add value to the services you offer your customers. They give you the ability to provide a place where customers can physically experience and adopt your new technologies in a secure environment.

To enhance this and leverage the opportunity to get close to your customers, Thales brings to you the first one of a kind Portable Issuance Kiosk. Our Kiosk adds value by securely easing you're in-branch issuance process, making it fully digital & automated.

The Rise of Contactless Payments

A recent Mastercard study showed that contactless payments have grown 2 x faster than non contactless payments. With spend limits increasing and cash being edged out, the ability to get your card in to the hand of your consumers as quickly and safely as possible is the hot topic for issuers and financial institutions alike.

The Benefits of Self Service in Banks:

Your Card Issued in an Instant!

A next-generation customer journey

Once Account opening is complete, whether done in-branch or at home, customers can have a new card in their hand in less than two minutes, without queuing or waiting for days to receive it. Now available for customers outside business hours, Thales' solution can help financial institutions provide an enhanced customer journey especially in the case of lost or replacement cards.

Why Self-Service Issuance? - What's in it for you?

- 1 Our Self-Service kiosk is small and portable allowing the instant issuance of cards in just a few minutes
- 1 Improves branch operational efficiency allowing the upsell of value added services. Become more focused on branch profitability, & relationship based sales all while clearly saving on costs and meeting consumer satisfaction and demands.
- 1 Flexible for either Thermal or Re-Transfer Printers making existing solutions easy to upgrade and innovate simply and seamlessly.

With Thales in-branch solution, customer on boarding and card issuance is now faster, more secure and simpler than ever before.
