

Receiving Money Orders — HOW TO SPOT A FAKE.

BEFORE ACCEPTING A MONEY ORDER, MAKE SURE IT'S REAL.
THERE ARE SEVERAL KEY THINGS TO LOOK AT TO SPOT A COUNTERFEIT MONEY ORDER.

EXAMINE THE PAPER

Real USPS money orders have specific marks and designs to prevent fraud.

If you hold the money order up to the light you should see:

- Watermarks of Ben Franklin on the left side repeat top to bottom (circle 1 on image).
- On the right of the Franklin watermark, a vertical, multicolored thread with the letters "USPS" weaves in and out of the paper to (circle 2 on image).

CHECK THE DOLLAR AMOUNTS

- If the dollar amount is discolored, it may have been erased, indicating fraud (circle 3 on image).
- Make sure the dollar amount is imprinted twice (circle 4 on image).
- See if the dollar value is too large.
 - Domestic money orders cannot be more than $1,000.
 - International money orders cannot be more than $700 ($500 for El Salvador or Guyana).
